1. Overview

The ASHK Examination is designed to assess the ability of candidates in understanding the Hong Kong working environment including industry practices, legislation, professional conduct code, professional standards and actuarial guidance notes relevant to actuaries practicing in life insurance, pension and general insurance sectors. Therefore, the ASHK Examination assures that passing candidates have acquired the appropriate level of local knowledge required for practicing in Hong Kong.

The ASHK Examinations are made up of two parts – (i) Core; (ii) Practice-specific (candidates can choose from life insurance, pension and general insurance).

The expected learning hours for each part are expected to range between 40 to 60 hours.

2. Examination Materials

The syllabus, study guides and sample questions are the useful materials to facilitate candidates' preparation for the ASHK Examination.

- Syllabus

The syllabus conveys the expectations of each examination paper of the ASHK. It includes learning objectives & outcomes and a complete listing of all readings for each examination paper.

Core Examination: Refer to Pages 3 – 8 of this document

Life Insurance Examination: Refer to Pages 9 – 12 of this document

Pension Examination: Refer to Pages 13 – 18 of this document

Questions of the ASHK Examination are related to and supported by the readings listed under the syllabus. These readings are selected to assist candidates in their examination preparation. It is strongly suggested that candidates review these readings in depth prior to sitting for each examination paper.

- Study guides

A set of documents that set forth primary topics and subtopics covered in each examination paper. The topics summarise timely and relevant elements of Hong Kong-specific regulatory framework and market environment in which actuaries work. The topics are reviewed by the ASHK Curriculum/Examination Taskforce on a regular basis to ensure the examination contents are timely and relevant.

- Sample questions

Sample questions of each examination paper are provided to help candidates familiarise themselves with the form and style of questions which they may see in the examination.

Candidates are expected to apply their knowledge of regulatory framework and market environment which, at the time of the examination, have been indicated in the latest syllabus (plus zipped files of all links/readings listed) and study guides.
